FERRIS HEADS UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF MOVE

OFFICERS ELECTED AT MEETING
LAST EVENING; START
PRELIMINARIES

FR. MAGUIRE SPEAKS

His Suggestion Adopted; To Donate
Receipts Of Football
Game Nov. 7

B. B. Ferris was elected president of the committee of representative organization leaders of Kankakee that will direct the movement to relieve unemployment and distress in the community this winter. Mr. Ferris was elected at the meeting last evening in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters. Other officers chosen were: W. C. Babst, vice president; Attorney Eva Minor, secretary; H. M. Stone, treasurer. The names of Romy J. Hammes, Claude Granger and Louis Ray were added to the committee list. The Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, president of St. Victor college, was the principal speaker at the gathering. Father Maguire urged the adoption of a plan of unemployment relief similar to one put into effect at Detroit.

Father Maguire also announced that St. Victor college will donate the net profits of its big night football game with the Charleston State Teachers at Bourbonnais on Friday, Nov. 7, to the relief fund.

Those present voted to concur with Father Maguire's suggested plan and three committees will be named by President Ferris in the near future to make a survey of the unemployed in the community; another to arrange a conference with employers of labor; and the third to devise ways and means of raising funds to care for the needs of families who are deprived of means of sustenance this winter.

The meeting was well attended and various members of the committee participated in a discussion of unemployment and suggestions for alleviation of suffering. This committee was sponsored by the Kankakee club which asked for cooperation of all clubs and charitable organizations in the community. It was first suggested several weeks ago at a Kiwanis meeting by Romy J. Hammes. The suggestion seems to have gripped the various organizations and all of the members are hopeful that they may devise a plan whereby destitute families of Kankakee will be subjected to a minimum of suffering this winter.

FELIX GOES TO JAIL; BREW GOES DOWN THE SEWER

Felix Cordiana, 935 West Stone street, was fined $100 and costs in the police court by Judge Bert L. Fitzgerald on a charge of drunkenness and resisting an officer.

Felix was arrested yesterday morning by Police Officers Ed Imming and Gene LaFontaine at his home. He claimed that the arrest was "an outrage" and protested, verbally and physically. In his home was found a quantity of home brew, a bottled cloudy mixture that John Stach, police chief, immediately disposed of down a sewer with the fear that the brew would hurt someone.

George Lemmer, same address, whose weakness seems to be Felix's powerful concoction, was arrested this morning when he promised to "stay away from Felix." As Felix could not pay his fine and was sent to the county jail to lay it out, it seems highly probable that he and Lemmer will part company for a while at least.

The police have had considerable trouble with Felix. He has made his home brew for a quite a while but there is no evidence that he sold it. Not many weeks ago, he was arrested in Brookmont, where he was occupying a garage, and some of his brew was found there. He was ordered out of that neighborhood.

At that time, it is said, he and Lemmer were found on the floor, asleep, with several "dead" bottles about them. It is claimed that a whole army of house flies, clustered about the sleeping men and the bottles, even became intoxicated from the heavy fumes of Felix's powerful concoction.

They were accompanied by their daughter, a comely young woman, who is said to have aided in the reconciliation.

Other marriage licenses were issued to Carl Coffin, 24, and Mrs. Mildred Mott, 21, both of Knox, Ind.; Harold Harbican, 35, and Anne Ebbesen, 23, both of Chicago.

Senator Glenn came to Washington for conferences on unemployment and in the interest of speeding public improvement programs in Illinois.

NO HOPE FOR MINERS STILL UNDER GROUND

DEATH TOLL MAY REACH 231

Mine Disaster in Prussia Is One
Of Worst In History Of The Country

BULLETIN

Aldorf, Germany, Oct. 22.—(AP)—The total of dead taken out of the Anna I mine, wrecked yesterday by an explosion, late this afternoon reached 203. The whole number of fatalities stood at 231. Prof. Becker, governmental mining expert, stated that no hope could be held out that miners still under ground in the blast torn shaft could be rescued alive.

Aldorf, Prussia, Oct. 22.—(AP)—This mining town of 10,000 inhabitants was plunged into new grief today when the realization struck home that there was no hope for 61 miners still under ground in the Anna I coal mine. With a certain death toll of 231 and the bodies of 170 victims of yesterday's mysterious explosion already recovered, there seemed every likelihood this afternoon that further increases in the death list must be made.

Ninety-nine persons remained in hospitals, many of them were in critical condition. When rescue crews, wearing gas masks, penetrated to a pit 1500 feet below the surface, a ghastly sight met their eyes. All about them the victims lay, apparently asphyxiated. From this pit not one person had emerged alive. It was only then that the would-be rescuers realized hope must be given up for any others in that area.

There were heartbreaking scenes as the dead were taken from the shaft and their families identified them. Many persons came from surrounding towns, some even venturing over the nearby Belgian and Dutch borders. These throngs of people today waited in front of the mine, and for police kept the crowds at a distance from the mine.

A government commission continued its efforts to learn the cause of the explosion. The blast at first was attributed to ignition of dynamite. Coal damp also was suspected but it was the belief that this latter deadly factor had not entered into the tragedy that encouraged those above ground for many hours in the belief that large numbers of the miners would be rescued alive from the deep but well ventilated galleries.

E. M. Cobb of Centralia was advanced to grand master, succeeding Charles Vandertum of Quincy who was named as grand representative to the sovereign council. Thomas B. Field of Monmouth was elected deputy grand master.

The Rebekah state assembly, a branch of the Odd Fellows, also elected officers today, naming Grace L. Bairdow, of Waukegan, as president. Mrs. Olive M. Williams of Salem, the retiring president, now becomes grand representative of the order.

Other officers elected by the Rebekahs were: Bertha Smith, Herrin, vice president; Elsie Siljander, Chicago, warden; Emma F. Turner, Chicago, treasurer, re-elected; Mae E. Crowell, Springfield, secretary; and Ida E. G. Sherman, of Chicago, instructor and chief examiner.

'BUGS' MORAN IN GESTURE OF DEFIANCE

DECLARES HE IS NOT A VA-
GRANT AND INCOME IS
$25,000 A YEAR

IS NOT AFRAID

Avers Cops, Courts, Citizens Or
Crooks Can't Drive Him
Out Of Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 22.—(AP)—The spotlight of investigation flashing again today on the slaying June 9 of Alfred Lingle, Tribune reporter, revealed George ("Bugs") Moran, gangster leader, in a gesture of defiance.

"I am not afraid of anyone," Moran declared on his return to Chicago on a vagrancy charge, following his arrest yesterday in a resort near Antioch. "Chicago is my home and I'm going to stay here. I won't be run out by Cops, Courts, Citizens or Crooks."

Asked by newspapermen where he had been since the Lingle slaying, Moran said he had been "here and there" hunting and fishing, with occasional visits to Chicago to collect dividends. He added he could not be classed as a vagrant, having an income of around $25,000 a year as part owner of a cleaners and dyers company.

Moran is reputed to be an enemy of Alphonse Capone, notorious gang leader, and it was Lingle's friendship for Capone that inclined police to believe Moran might have had something to do with the newspaperman's death. Moran insisted he had nothing against Capone. When asked by reporters who slew seven of his followers in a North Clark street garage a year ago last St. Valentine's day he only replied:

"Santa Claus."

Held at the detective bureau, Moran was closely guarded and the police had no revelations to make of what, if anything, they learned by questioning him.

Embargo On Munitions To Brazil

Washington, Oct. 22.—(AP)—At the request of the Brazilian government President Hoover today placed an embargo on shipments of munitions and equipment to Brazil except under licenses granted by the department of state. The Brazilian government's request was contained in a note handed to Secretary Stimson by Brazilian Ambassador Amaral. In effect the embargo prevents the sale of arms or equipment to any Brazilians excepting the Brazilian government. It would prevent shipments by private American manufacturers of munitions to insurgent forces.

CITIZENS FAVOR DR. COHN'S IDEA DECLARES MAYOR

Dr. Eugene Cohn's suggestion to the city council at Monday night's meeting has met with the approval of local citizens. Dr. Cohn stated that the city should furnish free coffee, rolls and soup to destitute transients who stop in Kankakee over night.

Mayor Louis E. Beckman stated today that already citizens are offering to cooperate with the council in order to provide food and lodging over night for stranded transients. C. E. Bertrand has offered to donate a gas stove to be used in heating the food. Others have offered to donate a large coffee urn and soup kettle. One local business house has offered to donate 50 pounds of coffee.

The mayor also said that a certain physician has offered to pay for the food for these transients for a month and another physician has made a similar offer.

The matter was referred by the council to the finance committee and it is likely that some decision will be made in the matter within a few days. It is understood that this food is not for "residents" but only for persons who become stranded in Kankakee over night and have not money to pay for food and shelter.

NEEDLE ATTACKER SOUGHT IN IOWA

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 22.—(AP)—A "needle attacker," who attempted to kidnap Mrs. R. J. Hassett, 22, after jabbing her in the arm with a hypodermic needle, was being sought by police today.

Mrs. Hassett escaped and ran to her apartment nearby locking the door against her attacker before the effects of the injection overcame her.

The attack, she told police, took place yesterday afternoon when the man drove up beside her in an automobile, leaped out and grabbed her arm, urging her to go for a ride.

She said she felt the needle jab into her arm and she jerked away and ran. Physicians were unable to say what drug the assailant used.

Mrs. Gladys Cohn Awarded Di-

ment From Husband

William S. Ragan, former Chicago aircraft factory superintendent convicted and now serving a life sentence for robbery of the Fisher, Ill. bank a year ago, went on trial before a jury in circuit court here today for the robbery of the Farmers' Bank of Grant Park on May 21, 1929.

Ragan has been identified by P. V. Hubbell and A. W. Ruge, officials of the bank, as the lone bandit who took $3,333 from them at the point of a revolver. Attorney C. D. Henry has been appointed by the court to defend Ragan. The prosecution is being conducted by State's Attorney T. R. Johnston.

The start of the trial was delayed until 11 o'clock this morning due to the fact that important witnesses were unavoidably delayed in arriving here. Ragan's wife is here seeking to establish an alibi for him on the date of the robbery. She claims that she has proof that Ragan was at his Chicago factory on the date and at the time of the Grant Park robbery. It was not expected that the jury would be selected before late afternoon today.

Mrs. Gladys Cohn, Mokena, last evening was awarded a divorce from her husband, Edward Cohn, of this city. The charge was cruelty, other charges filed in the original bill having been dismissed. The couple were married April 17, 1922, in this city. The wife claimed that Cohn beat and choked her on several occasions and the divorce was the result of him striking her while she was on a public dance floor near this city on March 4 of this year.

Mrs. Cohn was awarded a cash settlement of $1,300. Of this amount, $500 was to be paid in installments of $100 every three months. C. D. Henry was attorney for the wife. Cohn, through his Attorney Henry Ruel, filed an answer to the suit in which he denied the allegations.

A bill to foreclose on a debt of $9,210.50 was filed in circuit court today by Mary Banovetz, Joseph and Mary Jordan against Charles LaRoche and others. The debt was contracted April 1st, this year. C. B. Sawyer is attorney for the plaintiffs. The jury selected for the Ragan trial is as follows: Robert Carey, Bradley; Don Blaney, Kankakee; Alfred Armstrong, Herscher; Lester McIntosh, Kankakee; Martin Vandertark, Aroma; Arthur Book, Bradley; Harry Lynch, Kankakee; Rene Pombert, Kankakee; Albert Palinski, Kankakee; William N. Nutt, Buckingham; Roy E. Conn, Kankakee; George Girard, Otto.

LANDIS GIVES RULING ON THE DRAFT QUESTION

Chicago, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis today ruled that no major league club could draft a player from one of its own baseball farms.

The ruling, regarded as a slap at the farm system, was made when the Brooklyn club of the National League attempted to select Jimmy Peilstone, a pitcher, from its farm at Macon in the South Atlantic association.

It was the first attempt of its kind since the farm system became general throughout the major leagues. "Selection of a player from a club's own farm is wholly inconsistent with the draft," Commissioner Landis said. "The club can buy any players before September 15 if it wants them."

HARVEY MAN SHOT

2 AMENDMENTS ARE EXPLAINED BY SEN. MEENTS IN SPEECH

An interesting explanation of two of the proposed amendments to the state constitution, to be voted upon at the Nov. 4th election was given by State Senator Richard Meents of Ashkum at the open meeting of the Kankakee Knights of Pythias lodge last evening. A large crowd was present.

Senator Meents talked chiefly about the amendment to create a state income tax and also on the movement to amend the banking laws to give the state auditor more power in regulation of banks. The speaker was introduced by Mayor Louis E. Beckman. C. L. Tracy presided over the assemblage. The amendments were later informally discussed by various local residents.

RAIL PRESIDENTS NO NOT FAVOR THE SIX-HOUR DAY PLAN

Chicago, Oct. 22.—(AP)—A movement of the railway brotherhoods for a six hour day without pay reductions is regarded as untimely by two railroad presidents who were here today for a conference of industrial leaders.

"This is a mighty poor time to ask any such thing," said Lawrence A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central system. He said that in the current period of depression caused by overproduction the railroads "have no money to pay the additional salaries this change would require."

He expressed belief that a cut in work hours and employment of more men would not have the desired effect of creating jobs for idle men.

W. B. Storey, president of the Alchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, asserted that railroads could not rearrange their divisions to accommodate a six hour day. The American railroad system as now laid out is based upon an eight hour day and he called it "fiction" to state that divisions could be adjusted to fit a six hour run. Mr. Storey added that the effort to increase pay comes at an "extremely poor time."

MURDERED COUPLE'S HOME IS AUCTIONED

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 22.—(AP)—The expensive home which holds the solution of the double slaying of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hundley was taken over today by E. W. Vogler of Carbondale, who bought the property under the hammer yesterday at an auctioneer's sale. Valued at $25,000, when built a few years ago, it was sold to Vogler for $10,000 cash, the lowest price the law would permit.

Vogler also bought the house known as the Victor Hundley home. Victor is the son of the slain couple and was arrested for the murder of his parents a year ago last December, but was released for lack of evidence. He stoutly denied the crime. Vogler is one of the two children who are heirs to the property along with heirs of Mrs. Hundley, including a brother, George Harrison, wealthy Herrin banker. Young Hundley and his sister, Mrs. Lula Droke, of Memphis, Tenn., share half of the estate and relatives of Mrs. Hundley the other half. A coal yard appraised at $6,000 and operated by Victor, and another house and lot did not sell because of lack of bids.

WASHINGTON
DAYBOOK
By HERBERT PLUMMER
Washington—The man who succeeded Jim Reed, that ace of Kansas fund raisers in the United States Senate—Roosevelt Patterson Long Missouri—now finds himself engaged in the same task.
But Senator Patterson's investigations of campaign expenditures are unusual. If not distinctly novel. A conservative republican, he not only brought about an inquiry into the campaign of the "solid south"—long the stronghold of the democratic party—to conduct his investigation.
After charges had been laid before him that large sums of money had come from the outside, he induced his colleagues, Senators Nye, a progressive republican, and Wagner, a New York democrat, to accompany him to North Carolina to look into the Simmons-Bailey campaign.
Later the trip probably will cross over the Tennessee and conduct a similar inquiry there.
NO ORATOR
Senator Patterson has been little in the public eye since he has been in the house from 1921 to 1923, as a county prosecuting attorney at one time, and quit the job as United States attorney in Missouri to enter the senate last March.
Back home, his friends describe him as a loyal representative of the common people.
He comes from Springfield, and although his two opponents for the senate were from the urban centers of St. Louis and Kansas City, he attributes his $10,000 majority to the fact that the "common people" have the state raised to his standards.
His colleagues do not regard him as an orator. Not that he has a poor delivery, but rather that he does not attempt at eloquence for light. His speeches lack the biting sarcasm which characterized those of Reed.
Senator Patterson is a successful attorney and comes from a family of lawyers. His father and two brothers are members of that profession.
THEATROGOES
A man of personal magnetism, he makes friends easily. He is never happier than when surrounded by people.
He is laughingly confessed to me that he was always glad to see people, for they usually had information, and he found it difficult at times to get hold of enough to satisfy his demand.
He seeks his recreation in the theater and in his automobile. He prefers classical drama when he goes to the theater, and laments the passing of Shakespearean plays. But he has closed at hand, and landed a "terrible wallop on the Indians' back." And so formidable was he thus armed, that the Indians, those to whom he was to argue the case, rather than stay and argue the case, then they announced to a loud voice for the benefit of the four who looked on.
That's what every thief's redskin will get who sticks his nasty, dirty paw into my flour!" The four remaining Potawatomi men, apparently driven by the prompt and energetic action of Mrs. Rakestraw, when they heard the words, "White woman heap brave squaw!" One after another the members of the little party repeated the sentiment. "White woman heap brave squaw," and silently and decorously withdrew.
Long John Wentworth for years had many friends in Indiana and Kankakee counties whom he used to visit. He was largely instrumental in the building of the Illinois Central and the Chicago and North Western railroads. A mandolin orchestra played a place in the upper hall and played throughout the afternoon. There were about three hundred ladies in attendance.

SUNDOWN STORIES
THE SWIMMERS
By Mary Graham Bonner
I took the Little Black Clock and John and Peggy went out to get out of the boat from the closed backhouse.
Every once in awhile they would look at the overturned canoe and the mother and sister.
They were swimming toward the shore, assuming toward the shore upon which stood John and Peggy, and the Little Black Clock.
Without don't they go in the opposite way? John asked. They were much nearer that shore and there were more boats over there. We'd get them as soon as we could. I'm afraid they'll drown first the other way is so much nearer.
They're coming this way? The Little Black Clock said because the wind is with them and they would be almost impossible for them to swim against the wind and take the chance of being seen.
Who don't they wait for the night? I don't want to swim in the dark.

Chic Sale Has Hopes For Pershing's Book
BUFFALO. The papers say General Pershing has written a big war book to end all war books. Well, you'll notice he waited twelve years to do it. Pershing has got sense. He knows it is safe for him to say something now because by that time all of the eye witnesses are scattered.
You know, there are some questions about the war that Pershing could answer if he would. All war veterans would be interested and this late date the guilty wouldn't be convicted. Here are the questions.
Who told the army those raincoats that wouldn't keep out any more rain than a tennis net would?
Who knitted those socks that came all the way up to the soldier's hips and had feet in them that would hold a hickety?
Who passed the order that an officer even a second lieutenant could get drunk but that any thing besides slum gullion might make an enlisted man sick.
Who won the war?
CHARGES FOR SALE
The papers are full of the charges against Pershing. In the case of the Pershing case, the charges are as follows: Pershing was in command of the American Expeditionary Force in France. He was charged with neglect of duty, and with allowing his troops to be defeated by the Germans. The charges were made public by the press, and Pershing was forced to resign. The charges were later dropped, but the damage to his reputation was done.

What Is God Like
What does God look like? Many people ask this question. The answer is that God is like a father. He is loving, kind, and merciful. He is the one who created the world and all the things in it. He is the one who loves us and cares for us. He is the one who gives us life and hope. He is the one who is always with us, and who is always for us. He is the one who is the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. He is the one who is God, and who is the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit.
